Extra Credit Assignment 4

When all variables are changed from floats to doubles, the runtime nearly doubles for all sizes of inputs. This is likely due to the fact that floats are less accurate than doubles, as they are 32-bit vs doubles which are 64-bit. This means that less time will be used doing floating-point operations, which will decrease the runtime.